

THE JEWISH HERITAGE

Explore the roots of an ancient community

What was life like for the Jewish people in Florence when Botticelli painted the Primavera? Or at Galileo's time? And what is the Jewish community like in Florence today? Florencetown brings you the complete story of Florence from the Jewish perspective, told by an art historian of Jewish origin. Her vast knowledge and storytelling provide an insider's view of Jewish Florence not found in the guidebooks. The tour starts from the beautiful Synagogue, continuing through the Jewish cemetery and museum, onto the former ghetto and first neighborhood of the Jewish Community in Florence.
